GENESIS FRACTAL AGENDA & PROCESS (v2[1]) ===
Moderators: Joshua Seymour & Gregory Wexler

> - Mission Statement -
> Genesis Fractal seeks to build the technology, raise awareness and grow adoption of ƒractal governance, as outlined in ƒractally's white paper.

Welcome!

If this is your first meeting, don't worry - we all have experienced our 'first meeting' at some point and learned by observing others. We are all early adopters of this new governance process and many of us have already read the ƒractally White Paper to get up to speed. If you haven't had a chance to read the white paper, at least follow the requirements below, prior to the meeting so that you can observe the process live.

For those of you who have participated in a previous meeting(s), welcome back 😁 and many thanks for your continued participation in raising awareness and growing adoption of ƒractally and the ƒractal governance process.

Participation:

- Rate contributions, not people
- Rate completed contributions, not future promises
- We are here to measure every individual's contribution, however small - every measurement counts.
- No individual meeting is guaranteed to be fair. Each and every one of us is going to be wrong at some point, in our judgment. Over time, our collective judgment will be good.
- How to evaluate contributions: what do you think should be valued? Consider what has been done; consider who you'd want in your community; consider who has made the most significant contributions. Ensure those people get sufficiently compensated. There is no clear rule here; this is your community, and what you value will shape the community and its products.
- Participation is an endorsement of the community and an endorsement of the process.
- While some may provide write-ups about their updates and some not. Some may make material, easy-to-measure contributions and some much less easy to prove/measure, trust and reputation play into community. You won't have time to verify everything someone says in a meeting, and you may not have simple proof of their work. We're here simply to value contributions; verification/research into their work can be done after the fact.

Requirements:

- You must have a hive user account. If you don't have one, get one with hive here.

---

[1] As per White Paper Addendum 1

- Review and sign: Fractal Contributor Agreement. You must agree to participate by signing this Hive post with your Hive user account by Commenting the following on the post: "I agree".
- You must have a registered Zoom account. If you don't have one, get one here. Please change the Display Name of your Zoom account to read: FIRST LAST NAME (hive account)

SCHEDULE
OPENING Q&A Q&A 10:30 AM CST [45 min]	Welcome to the Fractally Genesis Meeting / AMA (ask me anything).
TO DO: Agree to the agreement	If you haven't already done so, open the Fractal Contributor Agreement and reply (comment) to the post with the words: I agree. Otherwise, please leave the meeting.
TO DO: Open the hive.blog post	Each week a new hive.blog post will be shared in the Zoom Chat, so that each participant can reply with a comment of their group's consensus rank order.
TO DO: Update Zoom Display Name	Please update your Zoom display name to include HIVE account info in parenthesis. Example update: John Smith (@hive_account_name)
ROUND 1 BREAKOUT 11:15 AM CST [25 min]	Welcome to the breakout room. Everyone will be randomly selected and placed in rooms of 5-6 people.
Contribution Discussion	Each person should briefly introduce themselves and answer the following questions in 3 minutes or less: 1. What have you done to build the technology, raise awareness and grow adoption of ƒractal governance, as outlined in ƒractally's white paper? 2. Have you invited anyone to participate and did they accept? 3. How did your contributions rank last week? Feel free to post a brief list of your contributions in the Breakout Room Chat.

Consensus Discussion 11:40 AM CST [20 min]	Decide Who Advances to Round 2: Select the top 3 members who will advance. Determine the Levels of the remaining members: 1. Identify who has contributed the most relative to their past recognition and get 4-of-6 or 3-of-5 agreement. This will be the user who gets Level 3. 2. Identify second-best. This will be Level 2. 3. Use the Breakout Room Chat to confirm your consensus order list that includes the Hive Account Names ordered from greatest contribution to least in the following comma-separated format: @userRound2, @userRound2, @userRound2, @user3, @user2, @user1 4. Everyone in the breakout chat should agree and copy the text with the correct consensus order and then post it to this week's hive.blog post. The URL to the hive.blog post will be shared in the Main Chat Room for your convenience.
INTERMISSION Post Consensus Results 12:00 PM CST [15 min]	Within 5 minutes of returning to the main Zoom room… Post the copy of your group consensus list to this week's hive.blog post like so: [first 3 not in order, last 3 in order] @userRound2, @userRound2, @userRound2, @user3, @user2, @user1 (for example: @dasher, @dancer, @pracer, …) Please post your comment with correct partial order of levels as shown above. If you are NOT advancing to Round 2, then please leave the Zoom meeting and (optionally) go hangout in the Discord or just continue enjoying your weekend.
ROUND 2 BREAKOUT Contribution Discussion 12:15 PM CST [25 min]	Introduce yourselves and share your contributions (as you did during Round 1).
Consensus Discussion 12:40 PM CST [20 min]	Determine the Levels of Members in Round 2: 1. Identify who has contributed the most relative to their past recognition and get 4-of-6 or 3-of-5 agreement. This will be the user who gets Level 8. 2. Identify second-best. This will be Level 7. 3. Use the Breakout Room Chat to confirm your consensus order list that includes the Hive Account Names ordered from greatest contribution to least in the following comma-separated format:

	@user8, @user7, @user6, @user5, @user4, @user3 (for example: @dasher, @dancer, @pracer, …) 4. Everyone in the breakout chat should agree and copy the text with the correct consensus order and then post it to this week's hive.blog post. The URL to the hive.blog post will be shared in the Main Chat Room for your convenience.
CLOSING Q&A Post Consensus Results 01:00 PM CST [15 min]	Post the copy of your group consensus list to this week's hive.blog post like so: @user8, @user7, @user6, @user5, @user4, @user3 Once you've posted your results, then you're free to leave the Zoom meeting and (optionally) go hangout in the Discord or just continue enjoying your weekend.
Conclusion	Final comments, group Q&A, and meeting conclusion. Thank you!

If you do not post in this format or enter a typo, the community may not be able to reach a consensus opinion on how much respect to assign you. Consensus comments after 1pm CST will not be counted.

SUGGESTIONS TO SPEED THINGS THROUGH ≡

Zoom Username
Please update your Zoom display name to include HIVE account info in parenthesis.
Example update: John Smith → John Smith (@hive_account_name)

This will help others in your breakout room easily identify you when it comes to ranking.
(If you happen to use your existing Zoom account for alternate business, you may wish to create a separate Zoom account with such a display name).

Keep a Journal
Keep an electronic notepad or journal of your contributions during the week and jot them down.
At the top, write your HIVE account name as well as the date of the week with which your journal will apply.
Anytime you make a new, meaningful contribution to the community, jot it down!

When it comes time to meet the BREAK OUT session, at that point, you can cut and paste that entry into the chat window and spend a few minutes reviewing with the other 5 members. NOTE - wait until you're in your breakout room before you paste into the chat window!

As an example format:

> Hive_Account_Name Contributions:
> - 2 friends joined this fractal after sending an invite to my 200 twitter followers this week
> - Mailed a hardcopy of 'More Equal Animals' to my friend Sally as a followup to my phone we had discussing the governance process.
> - Last week I ranked #6 (highest ranked contributor)

🔲🔲🔲🔲🔲🔲🔲🔲🔲🔲🔲🔲🔲

Thank you for your participation and contributions – We're here to learn, engage, network/share with one another and most importantly have fun in the process!